

ONLINE CONSENT FORM

Title of Project: The cognitive basis of pragmatic inferences

This study forms part of a research project under the supervision of Professor Richard Breheny in the Linguistics Department of the UCL Division of Psychology and Language Sciences. This study has been approved by the RD Ethics Chair as LING-2021-01-21

Please read the following information carefully:

- You have read and understood the information sheet explaining the project, risks and benefits.
- You understand that you have the right to withdraw at any point during the study, for any reason, and without any prejudice.
- You understand that you must not participate if you suffer from photosensitive epilepsy.
- You consent to the processing of the anonymised data collected for the purposes of this study only and not for any other purposes.
- All data are collected and stored in accordance with the provisions of the General Data Protection Regulations and the Data Protection Act 2018. If you are concerned about how the data is being processed, please contact UCL in the first instance at data-protection@ucl.ac.uk
- You are over the age of 18.

If you would like to contact the Principal Investigator in the study to discuss this research, please e-mail r.breheny@ucl.ac.uk